GIVE UP HOPE FOR BURIED MINERS

At Least 100 Dead Believed to Lie in Depths Wrecked Tennessee Mine

BLACK DAMP CHECKS ENTRY

Rescuers Expect to Come Upon Victims Today—Eight Mangled Bodies Were Found

BRICEVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 10.—Somewhere in the depths of the Cross Mountain coal mine probably 100 men lie dead tonight while their sorrow-stricken families keep vigil at the mouth of their tomb, hoping against hope that their loved ones may be alive when rescuers reach them.

Eight mangled bodies were brought forth by nightfall, when search was abandoned for the day. Outside of the immediate families of the entombed men, no one in this little mountain village believes that any living thing in the mine has survived the terrific explosion of coal dust that wrecked the workings Saturday morning.

For more than 36 hours every surviving miner in this region had toiled with no thought of food, sleep or pay to remove the debris and force fresh air into the innermost recesses of the mine. Tonight they practically had penetrated to the main entry head nearly three miles in. Tomorrow they expect to be ready to work the cross entries in which the great mass of bodies undoubtedly were cast by the blast.

Black damp developed later today and stopped progress for a time, but soon the silent rescuing force passed boldly on. Some of them were overcome by the noxious gases.

Thousands of morbidly curious crowded about the main entry of the mine. They saw nothing but the terrible grief of the stricken families.

There is hardly a family in the entire Coal Creek valley that has not felt the touch of death. The problem of caring for the widows and orphans is great, requiring immediate solution. Certainly Briceville will be unable to care for its living with most of its wage earners numbered among the dead.

Tonight food is scarce, but plentiful supplies are due tomorrow from Knoxville. So far there has been little physical suffering among the families of those who lost their lives.

It has been impossible to get any authentic figures of the number of men in the mine when the explosion occurred.

Miners' officers have given out no statement. It has been impossible to hear on the men who went to work yesterday. That there are more than 100 is certain and that all of them are dead seems almost as certain.

The black damp will be driven from the mine tonight. Tomorrow, with the crew of one rescue car on the ground, another hurrying here, and representatives of the Red Cross on hand, rescue work will go forward rapidly.

Electrical devices for moving cars in the workings were shattered by the explosion and the debris cleared away in the tunnels is being hauled by miners to the surface. Mine experts tonight said it would be days before each lateral had been penetrated and said that when all bodies would be found was guesswork.

A pull of silent sorrow hovered about the mouth of the mine as thousands congregated, some standing for hours and others moving momentarily from one point of vantage to another.

The single disturbance of the silence was when the Rev. E. M. Hitchcock, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at Coal Creek, exhorted those within the hearing of his voice to ac-

COAST-TO-COAST PHONE CONVERSATIONS IN YEAT

Prediction Made by Head American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Who Is in West

DENVER, Dec. 10.—Telephone communication between New York city and San Francisco within a year was the prediction made by Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, also president of the Western Union Telegraph company, in an interview here tonight. At that, as now positive, he said, whether it would be possible in a short time to establish a service which would permit of holding more than a test conversation.

President Vail is making a general inspection of the concerns of which he is now the head. His present trip will include a visit as far west as Salt Lake City.

P. O. SURPLUS OF $219,118 THIS YEAR

First Time Since 1883 That Financial Report Has Not Shown Deficit

ONE-CENT LETTER POSTAGE

Postmaster General Indicates This Change at no Dis-tant Day

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—For the first time since 1883 the annual financial statement of the post office department shows a surplus instead of a deficit.

This is the burden of the annual report of Postmaster General Hitchcock, made public today. He indicated that the placing of the postal service upon a self-sustaining basis meant an improvement and extension of facilities and, at no distant day, one-cent letter postage.

At the beginning of the present administration, Mr. Hitchcock pointed out, the department showed a deficit of $17,477,770, the largest on record. In two years this deficit has been changed into a surplus of $219,118, despite important extensions throughout the service. These extensions include 3,744 new postoffices, carrier delivery—in 186 additional cities, 2,518 new rural mail routes and 8,000 additional postal employees.

The postal savings bank system, less than a year old, now is in operation in practically 7,500 offices. Preparations are now being made to establish it in about 40,000 fourth-class offices.

In 11 months' operation the postal banks' deposits aggregated $11,000,000 and they are expected to reach $50,000,000 by July 31.

In view of the successful operation of the banks, Mr. Hitchcock strongly recommended the establishment by congress of an adequate parcels post, which he said could be put into operation in a few months.

The postmaster general reiterated that the second-class postal rate should be two cents instead of one cent a pound.

Mr. Hitchcock said:

"The progress in aviation encourages the hope that ultimately the regular conveyance of mail by this means may be practical in many districts where the natural conditions preclude other means of rapid transportation."

The army on the peace footing habitually maintained with miniature companies and troops, he characterized as ineffective for service war soldiers. As to the unpreparedness of the army in artillery and ammunition, it is estimated that it would take more than 50 years to secure a reasonable supply of field artillery guns, carriages and ammunition that would be necessary in the event of war.

Congress is urged to express its wishes regarding the disposal of the unoccupied Friar lands in the Philippines; increase the limit of indebtedness that may be incurred by the Philippine government for public works from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 to assist in the naturalization duty and to grant pensions to Americans who have served 10 years in the islands.

Secretary of War Declares Army of U.S. Is Practically Unprepared for Any Conflict

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—In his annual report today, Secretary of War Stimson declared that the coningency of war with a first-class power would put the army of the United States practically unprepared. He attributed this largely to the fact that the army was scattered out over the country in too many posts, and the lack of reserves.

The army on the peace footing habitually maintained with miniature companies and troops, he characterized as ineffective for service war soldiers. As to the unpreparedness of the army in artillery and ammunition, it is estimated that it would take more than 50 years to secure a reasonable supply of field artillery guns, carriages and ammunition that would be necessary in the event of war.

May Meet Cavalry South.

The secretary says it is in preparation to remove the cavalry situated in the northwestern posts to the southwest, substituting infantry for them. The Texas maneuvers have shown the admirability of the southwest in states for cavalry training and drill at all seasons, whereas in the north, for many months in the year, it is impossible to drill outdoors.

The secretary commits himself definitely to the theory that it is a function of the modern army to be the school of the citizen soldier as opposed to those who contend for a permanent organization of professional soldiers. Therefore, the secretary disapproves of the long term of enlistment, and favors the shortening of the present term to less than three years, so as to allow as many as possible to go through the training of the regular army, the government retaining some hold over the discharged soldiers by which he can be called to the colors in case of war.

The secretary denounces as "un-American" a system which fails to distinguish between hardened criminals and thoughtless offenders against military regulations, and declares for immediate reform in the army prisons.

Denver, Dec. 10.—Three hundred of the 600 delegates who will attend the fifteenth annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association, which begins in Denver Tuesday morning, are already in the city. The meetings will be held Thursday and Wednesday at the Broadway theater. The executive committee of the association will meet tomorrow, and the delegates in the Brown Palace hotel to lay out the work for the convention.

After adjournment Wednesday, many of the delegates will remain long enough to take trip to the Colorado State Agricultural college at Fort Collins, also to the feeding yards of the sugar company at Brush, Colo.

It is said that many of the delegates are favorable of admitting Mexico to this country. Mexican cattle, of duty, with the idea that this will assist in getting stock for the depopulated ranges of the United States, yet will do no way prove detrimental to breeders or feeders of live stock. It is expected that a committee will be named by the stockmen to go to Washington during the present session of congress to take up the matter of free importation of Mexican cattle.

To-morrow night the stockmen will give a banquet complimentary to Mervin Mackenzie of Trinidad, the association's retiring president, who leaves with his overcoat pocket, amounting to $50, soon for South America.

TAFI FAMILY ASKS FOR CAKE FOR XMAS DINNER

Texas Girl Presented Fruit Cake to President in 1910, and Now He Wants Another One.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 10.—The Taf family has asked a contribution toward its Christmas dinner. It is a fruit cake which it wanted, and the request will be complied with.

Just before Christmas, Edna Mae Hattie Brandenburg of this city, with somewhat of a reputation in culinary circles, baked a fruit cake and sent it to the president. Mrs. Taff acknowledged the receipt of it and said that Mr. Taft enjoyed it very much.

Much to the surprise and delight of Miss Brandenburg she recently received a letter from the White house asking if it would be possible to have another one of those delicious cakes for this Christmas dinner. It is being prepared and sent.

The Democratic house, through the ways and means committee, has agreed to defer action until Jan. 10, to be selected. The senate is waiting on the Senate to act.

CHICAGO WILL LIKELY BE SELECTED

Other Cities Have Not Given Up Fight For G. O. P. Convention, However

TO LET THE STATES DECIDE

Taft Favors This Solution Question Selecting Delegates at Primaries

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—With the arrival in Washington today of practically all of the members of the Republican National Committee it became possible to forecast what will be done by the committee at the meeting Tuesday. As a result of the many conferences held today the following program seems to have been agreed upon:

Chicago will get the national convention and it will be held the last week in January.

There will be no fight for the chairmanship of the committee at this time. Ex-Gov. John F. Hays of Maine, the vice-chairman, will be elected to serve until the presidential nomination is made.

The question of selecting delegates at political primaries or by the customary delegate convention will be left to the various states to determine for themselves. President Taft is said to favor this disposition of the matter.

The committee will not act on the resolution for a reduction of southern representation, declaring this to be a question for determination for the convention itself.

President Entertains Today.

President Taft will entertain the commissioners at dinner tomorrow night. This dinner probably will be the most important politically given at the White House during the present administration.

The committee will not bar federal officers as delegates to the national convention taking the ground that this question is one for the convention to decide. The representatives of the southern states are expected to encourage offcials from seeking election as delegates and President Taft, it is said, will approve this program.

The adjustment of the presidential primary question "out of court" was intended by the "team of friends" of Colonel Roosevelt that the primary if adopted at this time might cut off the administration.

The average number of companies to equip the 48 posts is only also.

In short, says the secretary, "we have scattered our army over the country as it were merely groups of local constabulary instead of a national organization." The result is an army which is extraordinarily expensive to maintain and one whose efficiency for the main purpose of existence has been nullified, so far as greater need location can apply.

May Meet Cavalry South.

The secretary says it is in preparation to remove the cavalry situated in the northwestern posts to the southwest, substituting infantry for them. The Texas maneuvers have shown the admirability of the southwest in states for cavalry training and drill at all seasons, whereas in the north, for many months in the year, it is impossible to drill outdoors.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The refusal by John D. Rockefeller and his almoner, the Rev. F. D. Gates, to accept the "invitation" of the house steel investigating committee to appear and testify, drew a pointed and laconic note from Chairman Stanley of the committee today.

Mr. Stanley sent Dr. Gates the following letter:

"Sir—My recent communication to you was intended not to provoke a discussion of the value of the Merritt testimony, or of your personal integrity, but to give you an opportunity to defend it."

No letter was addressed to Mr. Rockefeller. The committee will resume its inquiry tomorrow and, with all difference in committee adjusted, expects to present its work to a conclusion as speedily as possible. Messrs. Rockefeller and Gates were not subpoenaed because of the pendency of a government suit against the United States Steel corporation.

Most of the congressional activity this week will be committee meetings although the Sherwood pension is to be voted on by the full Senate.

The urgent deficiency appropriation bill probably will be enacted into law before congress takes its holiday recess.

There is a lethargic condition regarding the big issues on which it will legislate. Tariff and trust bills still are unacted in committee. The police Republicans are looking forward to the tariff board's report which is expected by the end of the week.

The Democratic house, through the ways and means committee, has agreed to defer action until Jan. 10, to be selected. The senate is waiting on the House's action.

KEEP KING GEORGE BUSYEnglish Ruler Has Received Over 100
Native Princes in Audience.

Many Ceremonies

DELHI, Dec. 10.—King George has had a busy time since his arrival in camp, for there has been a succession of ceremonies the last three days. More than 100 native princes have been received in audience by the king and their subjects have been returned by the vice-roy at the king's command.

Today King George and Queen Mary reviewed an open-air church parade, which was an impressive spectacle.

Few Americans are attending the durbar, apparently being deterred by fears of extortionate rates for accommodations. At one of the leading hotels the minimum rate for each person is $30 daily for a minimum of 20 days.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Daily Mail's Delhi correspondent says that after the durbar the king will announce an important reform promising higher commission for native officers.

NOBEL PRIZES PRESENTED

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 10.—King Gustave today presented the Nobel prizes, with the exception of the peace prize, to the winners: Mme. Marie Skłodowska Curie personally received the prize for electricity; Professor Wilhelm Wien of Wurzburg, university prize for physics; and Professor Alvar Gulstrand of Upsala, university prize for medicine.

The Belgian minister received the prize for literature in behalf of Maurice Maeterlinck, who is ill.

The Nobel prizes each amounted to nearly $40,000.

CHRISTIANIA, Dec. 10.—The Nobel peace prize has been awarded jointly to Professor T. A. C. Asser of the Netherlands, founder of the "Institut de Droit International" (Institute of International Law), and the Austrian peace advocate, Alfred Fried of Vienna, editor of the Journal Friedenshylfe. Each will receive $15,500.

WEATHER DELAYS RUSSIANS

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The Teheran correspondent of the Times says the whole Russian expedition will not reach Kastan until Wednesday, the wintry weather delaying the progress of the troops. There will be probably further delay before the march on Teheran begins.

In the meantime pour parlers will be established between the Persian cabinet and the Russian minister regarding the ultimatum, with a view of finding a formula for a second article less sounding to Persian sensibilities. The cabinet adds the correspondent is disposed to make large concessions.

35 CHOLERA DEATHS IN SICILY IN ONE WEEK

CHIASSO, Switzerland, Dec. 10.—The official bulletin issued by the Italian government on the cholera epidemic reports 50 cases and 35 deaths in Italy for the week of November 26 to December 2. All the cases are in Sicily. No cholera is reported on the mainland.

NO CAUSE TO WORRY OVER C. W. ELIOT'S CONDITION

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 10.—Regarding messages as to the condition of Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university who was operated upon for appendicitis at Hasty, Ceylon, yesterday were received today by his son, the Rev. Samuel A. Eliot.

The patient's condition was said to be satisfactory. He is in a modern hospital and has skilled attendants.

A LAND PRODUCTS SHOW

Seven States and Alaska Will Be Represented at Big Exhibition in St. Paul This Week

ST. PAUL, Dec. 10.—Beginning next Tuesday morning and continuing for 12 days the Northwestern Land Products show, with exhibits from seven states and the territory of Alaska, will be held here.

The following states besides Alaska will be represented: Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

There will be lectures every day when the resources and opportunities of the various states will be explained. Thousands of feet of moving picture films obtained last summer will be exhibited. December 17 the western governors now on a tour of the east will return here and a land congress will be held. The congress will discuss the development and exploitation of the northwest.

WANT STATE RAILROAD RATE CASES POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—On account of the two vacancies in the supreme court a movement has been started to have the group of state railroad cases assigned for argument in January, 1912, postponed for a full decade. These cases involve the constitutionality of the state rates in Missouri, Minnesota, Oregon, West Virginia, Arkansas and Kentucky. In each case the claim is made that the law burden interstate commerce by exacting a low state rate.

One vacancy was caused by the death of Justice Harlan. The other temporary, in its nature, is due to the absence of Justice Day during the serious illness of his wife.

SLAYER KILLED IN RUNNING BATTLE WITH STATE TROOPS

WHITE ROCK, S. D., Dec. 10.—After a running battle of 20 miles with a company of state militia and a posse of armed citizens, John Weldemir, who yesterday shot and killed Sheriff Moody of Watertown, today was surrounded near here and killed after he had wounded three of his pursuers.

Weldemir yesterday killed Sheriff Moody when the latter attempted to eject him from a house on the farm of United States Marshal Shea.

TESTIMONY IN PACKERS CASE MAY BEGIN TODAY

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Counsel for the United States in the trial of J. Ogden Armour and nine others, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman antitrust law, said tonight that it was expected the introduction of evidence in the case would begin late tomorrow.

Eleven jurors have been accepted by the packers and of these six have been accepted by the government.

Counsel for the defense, it is said, will tender a panel to the government before the noon recess tomorrow.

AMERICAN IS ARRESTED AS SPY BY MEXICAN RURALES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 10.—John McDonald, 27 years old, who claims to be a former United States soldier, and a resident of Clipper, Wash., is under arrest at Tijuana, Lower California, and is to be taken to Ensenada tomorrow to be tried as a spy. United States Consul Simplicio at Ensenada has been asked to look out for McDonald's interests.

McDonald appeared at a railway ramp about eight miles from Tijuana last Thursday night. He had two rifles and ammunition. He said that he was on his way from Everett, Wash., to a job that had been promised in Mexico.

On the day following his arrival he arrested him and took him to Tijuana.

NEW YORK EXTENDS HEARTY GREETINGS TO GOVERNORS

Nevada's Executive Says That State Is Anxious for Reforms in Divorce Laws

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The governors of eight states, on their special trading exhibition from their territories, arrived here this morning and spent a hour.

The party was met at the Jersey City terminal by a committee of city officials, members of the chamber of commerce, the Merchant's association and the Rocky Mountain club.

The governors were ferried across the river in police boat, and on this side of the water unmounted policemen with a bugler escorted them in automobile to their hotel.

The governors were guests of William H. Hearst at luncheon, and several of them were guests of the V. M. C. A. themselves, while they made speeches. Governor Odell of Nevada told of buying the cornerstone for a V. M. C. A. building in Reno, and smiling at the visitors laughed.

"I know what you mean," he said, "and I am going to tell you about it. Reno is a city of only 15,000 people, but it raised $10,000 for that V. M. C. A. building in just 30 days. Gambling was stopped out there two years ago, and the idea of the wide-open state has passed away."

Nevada for Uniform Laws

The press of the entire country have made much fun about the easy conditions of divorce in Nevada, and there is much truth in what they say. Nevada is ready to make a strong effort to bring about uniform divorce laws, and her people wish heartily to do away with the evil.

At the next conference of governors I hope to see things started for uniform divorce laws in all the states, and I expect to be very active in that regard.

Governor Carey of Wyoming, Harry of Idaho, and Lieutenant Governor Fitzgerald of Colorado spoke at a V. M. C. A. meeting. All the governors urged that their territory offered fine opportunities for relief from the congestion of cities.

The party was entertained at dinner tonight by John Hays Hammond, who also invited officials of the Rocky Mountain club and the California association and Governor Dix of New York.

At the dinner tonight Governor Dix welcomed the executives in a brief address.

PANAMA RAILROAD DID NOT COST SO VERY MANY LIVES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The unheralded statement that every tie on the Panama railroad represented a human life lost in its construction, has received the quietus in an official report issued by the canal commission.

Lewis was formerly warden of the Wyoming penitentiary. His body will be taken to his old home in Ogden, Utah, tomorrow.

The commission has made public a letter from Maj. Gen. George W. Davis, the first governor of the canal zone, who said an analysis has shown that 140,000 ties were in the roadbed of the Panama railroad, but that the loss of life was comparatively small.

It was explained that the station on the line known as Metchin, the Spanish word for "butcher," was named to commemorate the wholesale suicides there of a large number of Chinese coolies, who, failing to secure an immediate release from their labor contracts, killed themselves.

The young Council Bluffs physician shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Woolman in a rooming hotel March 25 last, and a few minutes later shot and killed Edmund Sterzing, a bartender, when the latter refused Kelly's drink.

Kelly was being taken to an infirmary when the tragedy occurred.

The jury, in a special finding, agreed that the defendant was insane on the morning the crime was committed.

Counsel for the defense announced that a motion will be filed asking that the verdict be set aside on the ground that it is inconsistent.

PARCELS POST STATISTICS FOR USE SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Complete information of the operation of the parcels post in 21 foreign countries has been compiled for the use of the senate committee on postoffices and post roads to be used in considering proposed legislation to establish a parcels post in the United States.

The statistics show that where the parcels post operates, packages form the smallest part of the mails. Senator Bourne, chairman of the committee, says that under the parcels post rates proposed, fourth-class mail matter would be doubled or trebled without embarrassment to the department.

Two stories were sent out from police headquarters about the incident.

One was to the effect that "we know nothing of it" and the other was that "an officer is investigating."

Gold Dollar Company in Good Condition Quarterly
Statement Issued

The regular quarterly statement of the Gold Dollar Consolidated Mining Company shows the company to be in a better financial condition than for some time, and intimates that regular dividends may be declared in the near future. The company has derived considerable advantage, according to the report, from the Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel, which permits working at lower levels in the mine than has hitherto been possible.

The main shaft is being sunk to the eleventh level, and it is expected that a good quality of ore will be found there. Eight cars of ore were shipped from there broken in order to place the timbers for the stopes work. The ore returned from $44 to $48 a ton on the screenings, and $35 on the coarse ore.

Electric bell systems have been installed in the ore house, which are expected to save considerable time for the ore sorters. Within the near future the mine will be equipped with electric lights and cell systems at the various stations.

The company has 25 lessees developing the property, from whom an aggregate sum of $7,481.75 in royalties was received during the last quarter.

The company estimates the entire amount from the lessees, including royalties and improvements, at about $12,000.

The report shows a balance of $1,354.45 on hand.

The statement is signed by H. L. Shepherd, president, and A. E. Carlton, treasurer.

TELLS OF REMEDY FOR INDUSTRIAL DISEASES

Dr. W. F. Martin, being suddenly called away yesterday morning, was unable to deliver the address scheduled on "Industrial Disease" at the meeting of the Brotherhood class of the First Congregational church, and his place was filled by Dr. E. S. Parsons of Colorado college.

The address was a discussion of the diseases that are contracted in factories of different kinds. For instance, tuberculosis caused by work in cotton factories; calsom, fever, by work in tunnels; phossy jaw, by employment in match factories; and different diseases caused by working with metals, such as brass and lead.

After a short discussion of these, Dr. Parsons told of the remedy. He said the only solution is legislation to render sanitary conditions in factories and machine shops. After this is obtained, a number of people interested in the work must see that the legislation is enforced. Until this is done many workers will continue to contract their diseases, often with fatal results.

BISHOP WARREN SPEAKS
DURING COLLEGE VESPERS

Rev. H. W. Warren of Denver, bishop of the Colorado Diocese of the Methodist Episcopal church, spoke at the vesper services in Perkins hall yesterday afternoon. His subject was "Not by Might, Nor by Power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord."

Bishop Warren said that the pages of history are replete with instances of the power of God in military engagements. He began with the early Biblical days, and carried it down through all, until the Civil war.

It is Bishop Warren's belief that Abraham Lincoln was led to sign the Emancipation proclamation through the spirit of God, rather than any desire of political inclination.

He urged the students to see that the spirit of God enters all of their endeavors, that they might make better men and women, and so benefit society.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM IN 1911

NUMEROUS speakers and writers have designated freedom as the characteristic "spirit of the age." "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" has been used simultaneously as a text for sermons, the rallying cry of the opponents of orthodoxy, the motto of a weekly magazine, and the inscription on a number of public buildings dedicated to science. One enthusiastic professor, fond of epithet, has gone so far as to designate freedom as the "quivering" spirit of the age. He did not make it clear, however, whether the spirit of freedom is quivering with exaltation or agony. Whatever may have been his meaning it is probably true that men and institutions have grown and are growing more tolerant.

President Hadley of Yale pointed out a number of years ago in The Atlantic Monthly that the progress toward tolerance is, by no means, uninterrupted and continuous. He said:

"There is a current impression that the higher education of civilized communities shows a steady progress from servility to freedom, that beginning with a rigidly ordered school course each nation, as the years go on, gradually widens the opportunities for individual development on the part of instructors and students. But we find few facts to justify this idea. Instead of a continuous progress toward freedom, we have oscillations backward and forward."

In none of our institutions is the hesitating progress toward greater freedom more noticeable than in colleges and universities. The conflicts between trustees and professors in educational institutions are usually more clean cut and the questions at issue more unclouded than such conflicts elsewhere.

"Once or twice every year," said Prof. F. C. Hadley, "the public hears of differences of opinion between teachers in our collegiate institutions and those who hold the appointing power." One man is called to account for his views on the condition of the wicked after death, another for his opinions concerning the technical duties of rich and poor, a third for his teaching as to the mobility of organic species, and a fourth for his judgment upon the physiological effects of alcohol."

The history of collegiate institutions during the present year makes it clear that prejudice is still very much alive, that the spirit of intolerance is in most vigorous health, and that it is not yet time to celebrate the funeral of bigotry. The year 1911 has added the usual quota to the list of men of ability in colleges and universities who have suffered because of their independence or thought and teaching.

Among the professors who have been dismissed because they had too much "spirit of the age" are Professor E. M. Banks, from the University of Florida, and Professor Workman from the Montreal Wesleyan Theological College. For the same reason the Presbyterian Synod of California has recently requested the resignation of Professor Thomas F. Day from the chair of Old Testament Literature of the San Francisco Theological Seminary. Professor Day is to be removed if he does not resign previous to January 1.

Professor Banks was dismissed from the University of Florida last spring as a direct result of an article which he published in The Independent on "A Semi-Centennial View of Secession." In this article he said:

"It is a fatal popular error on the part of the people of the South to suppose that it is in the program of the party of Lincoln to directly interfere with the institution of slaves in the states where it exists. Students of history can easily see the real wisdom and the correctness of the Republicans attitude on the main issue in dispute in the election of 1860, and it is a mistake of Mr. A. L. that the Southern leaders on that day were unable to see its wisdom in the light of a true philosophy of progress."

Professor Banks finally inflamed the political trustees of the University of Florida. The red-hot indignation was made incandescent by the following sentence:

"The inclusion of slaves was becoming a luxury in the Nineteenth Century."

COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE: MONDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1911

Those who consciously and sincerely align themselves with the forces working for the best interests of an advancing civilization are in the right in the best sense of the term right. Viewing the great civil conflict—the semi-centennial of whose inauguration this year marks, in the light of these principles and in the light of a broad historical philosophy, we are led irresistibly to the conclusion that the North was relatively in the right, while the South was relatively in the wrong.

Professor Banks was Professor of History and Economics. He presented both sides of every question to his students; he was efficient. He was also an independent scholar. But Professor Banks no longer teaches History and Economics in the University of Florida—and the governing board has convicted itself of medievalism.

The dismissal of Professor Banks must not be taken as an indication of the condition of thought in the South. One of the leading papers of that section, The Atlanta Constitution, came to the support of freedom in the following most vigorous and refreshing method:

This system [of muzzling teachers] glorifies hypocrisy, puts a premium upon cowardice, stifles the instinct to study, to discover, and toward research. It is unthinkable! Not only is the teller of truth to be sacrificed, but as well his mouth is to be sealed. In the light of such a proscription, what chance would progress or reformation stand? None. For putting a quietus upon the right of dissent, would mean that upon any question, large or small, any community, large or small, once wrong, would have to stay wrong—provided those in error were in the majority.

Professor Workman ONE WHO was dismissed from the RECOVERED Montreal Wesleyan-Theological College on the charge that he denied the Bible story of the fall of man. The Canadian courts showed themselves to be as tolerant as The Atlanta Constitution; they awarded Professor Workman $3,500 damages on the ground that the action of the directors was illegal.

The Presbyterian Synod of California voted: "That Moses wrote the whole of the Pentateuch; that the entire book of Isaiah is the work of one writer; that the book of Daniel is veritable history, written before it came to pass; that the Genesis account of the creation, of paradise, and of the fall of man is 'historically true'."

Professor Day was asked to resign because his views do not coincide with those of the majority. We hope that the case of Professor Day will give the courts of California an opportunity to align themselves with those of Canada.

The points at issue in the three cases cited are not new. Thirty years ago Dr. Winchell, professor of geology at Vanderbilt University in Tennessee, was dismissed because he attempted to reconcile science and religion, and a decade ago Professor Rose was dismissed from Stanford University for economic heresy.

Undoubtedly, there are many other independent thinkers whose dismissal has not come into public notice. There are probably a greater number of teachers who have been suppressed into innocuous desuetude. Certainly there are other professors who are not suppressible, but who have not, as yet been found out. A portion of the latter group are destined to meet the fate of Professors Banks, Workman and Day.

The regular quarterly statement of the Gold Dollar Consolidated Mining Company shows the company to be in better financial condition than at some time, and indicates that regular dividends may be declared in the near future. The company has derived considerable advantage, according to the report from the Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel which permits working at low levels in the mine than has hitherto been possible.

The main shaft is being sunk to the eleventh level, and it is expected that a good quality of ore will be found there. Eight cars of ore were shipped from that broken in order to place the timbers for the stop work. The ore returned from $4 to $45 a ton on the screens, and $15 on the coarse ore.

Electric bell systems have been installed in the ore house, which are expected to save considerable time for the ore sorters. Within the near future the mine will be equipped with electric lights and steel systems at the various stations.

The company has 25 leases developing the property, from whom an aggregate sum of $7,181.73 in royalties was received during the last quarter. The company estimates the entire benefit from the leases, including royalties and improvements, at about $12,000. The report shows a balance of $12,265.46 on hand. The statement is signed by H. L. Shepherd, president, and A. E. Capton, treasurer.

BIG CROWD SEEKS FIGHT

A big crowd gathered around two fighters at Pikes Peak Avenue and Tejon Street, at about 12 o'clock Saturday night and watched the men hammer and nail each other for several minutes without police interference. In fact, the police did not put in an appearance until after one man had yelled "Enough" and replaced his coat. The participants made their escape.

Two stories were sent out from police headquarters about the incident. One was to the effect that "we know nothing of it" and the other was that "an officer is investigating."

DIFFICULT ORATORIO GIVEN AT ST. STEPHENS CHURCH

Before a large congregation in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, at vespers services yesterday afternoon, Louis Spohr's majestic oratorio, "The Last Judgment," was sung by the church choir, under the direction of Alexander Pirie, organist and choirmaster. It was the first choral recital which has been given since the appointment of Mr. Pirie, who was brought here several months ago from Edinburgh, Scotland, to direct the choir, and its rendition was highly appreciated by the audience. The nature of Spohr's masterpiece necessitated much practice, and the way in which it was sung showed a mastery of the difficult music with which the composition abounds. The many chromatic progressions were excellently executed, evidencing Mr. Pirie's ability as choirmaster.

The main shaft is being sunk to the eleventh level, and it is expected that a good quality of ore will be found there. Eight cars of ore were shipped from that broken in order to place the timbers for the stop work. The ore returned from $4 to $45 a ton on the screens, and $15 on the coarse ore.

Electric bell systems have been installed in the ore house, which are expected to save considerable time for the ore sorters. Within the near future the mine will be equipped with electric lights and steel systems at the various stations.

The company has 25 leases developing the property, from whom an aggregate sum of $7,181.73 in royalties was received during the last quarter. The company estimates the entire benefit from the leases, including royalties and improvements, at about $12,000. The report shows a balance of $12,265.46 on hand. The statement is signed by H. L. Shepherd, president, and A. E. Capton, treasurer.

TELLS OF REMEDY FOR

Dr. W. F. Martin, being suddenly called away yesterday morning, was unable to deliver the address scheduled on "Industrial Diseases" at the meeting of the Brotherhood class of the First Congregational church, and his place was filled by Dr. E. S. Parsons of Colorado college.

The address was discussion of the diseases that are contracted in factories of different kinds. For instance, tuberculosis caused by work in cotton factories; calson fever by work in tunnels; phossy jaw by employment in match factories, and different diseases caused by working with metals, such as brass and lead.

After a short discussion of these, Dean Parsons told of the remedy. He said the only solution is legislation to remedy sanitary conditions in factories and machine shops. After this is obtained, a number of people interested in the work must see that the legislation is enforced. Until this is done many workers will continue to contract these diseases, often with fatal results.

DISHOP WARDEN SPEAKS
DURING COLLEGE VESPERS

The Rev. H. W. Warren, co-pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, spoke at the vespers services in Perkins hall yesterday afternoon. His subject was, "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord."

Bishop Warren said that the pages of history are replete with instances of the power of God in military engagements. He began with the early Babylonian days, and carried it down through all ages until the Civil war. It is Bishop Warren's belief that Abraham Lincoln was led to sign the Emancipation proclamation through the spirit of God, rather than any outside political influence.

He urged the students to see that the spirit of God enters all of their endeavors, that they might make better men and women, and so benefit society.

CRITTENTON ASSN.

G. L. Patterson, Lecturer, Addresses Large Audience in the Opera House.

Notwithstanding the stormy weather last night, more than 600 persons attended the mass meeting at the Opera house, during which G. L. Patterson told of the work being done by the Crittenton children in the United States. Mr. Patterson made an exceedingly interesting talk, did his audience listened attentively for over an hour to the points which he made in elaborating upon the rescue work followed out by the Crittenton homes.

Patterson told of the pitfalls with which some girls and women find of the absolute necessity of homes like the Crittenton institutions. He told of the founding of the first Crittenton home

by Charles N. Crittenton and the facts which led up to the establishment of these rescue homes in most of the larger cities of the country.

With Mr. Patterson on the platform were Major Avery, who presided; W.

MAX DILL APPEARS TONIGHT

That imitatable and perpetually popular German comedian, Max Dill, and his big company of acrobats will appear at the Opera house tonight, and will present that highly amusing and ridiculous musical comedy, "The Rich Mr. Hogenheimer." This place can see him every year in New York city. The lyrics are by Harry E. Smith, music by Ludwig Englehardt. The star and views of the action of these opereas. The Arnold Ellman company of New York made the actress an offer of $5,000 if she would appear before one of their "moving picture" cameras for only one hour; so that they might have exclusive views of the Hogenheimer. Miss Held declined the offer. Despite the fact that Miss Held is the most photographed woman in the world, nobody can tell the color of her eyes. Miss Held has demonstrated

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS

"Brewster's Millions" comes to the Opera house Saturday matinee and night. The success of Mr. George Arliss' Metropole's widely read book is in doubt, in great measure responsible for the keen desire of theatergoers to witness Winchell Smith and Byron Ongley's dramatization, together with the assurance that the show is to be seen that excels that which opened a week's engagement at the Majestic, Saturday, and was accorded hearty approbation of big audiences both afternoon and evening. There is a little of everything in the bill, and a lot of a quality which provides the best of entertainment.

The feature act is, of course, that of Robert Flory, the world-famous impersonator and character change artist,

CHORUS IN "THE HIGH

Max Dill, the well-known German Comedian, presents Sam Bernard's Great Success, "The Rich Mr. Hogenheimer," at the Opera House Tonight Only. His delightful unctuous manner are too well known for comment, and that he will be greeted with a large and enthusiastic audience at his appearance goes without saying. Never before has the Teutonic fun-maker been surrounded with such a capable company as now, and he has been singularly fortunate in securing as his leading man Denton Vane, a young San Francisco tenor, who has covered himself with many recent, as well as principal support of Frank Daniels and Lulu Glaser. In two of the Shubert's greatest successes. In addition to having a splendid and well-cultivated voice, Mr. Vane is one of the rarest talents in the country.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

A real dramatic treat is in store for local lovers of the theater when Miss

Felicity Fulgora appears in the famous original cast will present the day here with all its wealth of spectacular, mimetic, and electrical stage effects. Two caravans of scenery are employed in the production which was staged by Manager Frederic Thompson, who conceived and brought forth the New York Hippodrome, with its marvel of stage realism, and Luna Park, the most comprehensive and entertaining show garden in the world. The great third "act yacht" scene in "Brewster's Millions" can be said to be easily the most sensational and realistic setting ever seen on the stage.

Apart from these features there is a fascination about the story of a young man required to spend a million dollars in a year without revealing his reasonable excuse for such extravagance. Louis Lumbeau as "Monty" Brewster has achieved a remarkable success. "The Rich Mr. Hogenheimer" at the Opera House Tonight Only, and this number alone is worth the price. Fulgora is something more than a mere change artist; he is a dramatic actor of wonderful ability and versatility. Not only does he change from George Washington to an old market-woman in the twinkling of an eye, but he talks and acts superbly every part he takes.

The Cortese Trio are favorites with their harp and violin playing, the boy member of the troupe making an instant hit with his remarkable playing. Eugene Schiech and Irene D'Arville, a European team, have a novel act, including character songs, dances and gymnastics. Schiech's gymnastic work is remarkable. Kramer and Herbert Ross are two elongated gentlemen who offer something in the line of hard-shoe dancing.

Consul Holder is of the opinion that American coal mine owners ought to sell much coal to France, distributing it in that country by canal from Rouen.

Consul Holder is of the opinion that America's wrath against sin is seen in the sentence of death against the sinner.

"Dying, thou shalt die." This is the scripture called the "curse." It has been revealed upon our race for 6,000 years.

It is visible to all. Attended by the privilege which they enjoy. It will be upon all the selfish or covetous,

upon the unclean and upon those

unduly prize all earthly things, wear

honor, etc. God's people are warned.

"Be ye not therefore partakers of them, otherwise you will have no portion in the glorious kingdom to which you have been called of God, we for heirs with Jesus Christ, condition upon your suffering with him, if you may also reign with him.

Scripture's words to some of the poor people (Pharisees) of his day, what wrath did John refer? We see that he was a prophet, and thus foretelling the time of trouble with which the Jewish age ended.
A.D. 70. There is nothing what to indicate that he had made no reference to a wrath of God in the time that would come upon his hearer they were dead. On the contrary the scriptures everywhere teach that the dead are unconscious;
they can neither enjoy nor suffer a wrath; that they must wait for resurrection in the resurrection.

Our Lord also corroborated the view of John the Baptist and declared the wrath of God upon that nation, which his words were, "These are the days of vengeance, as upon this people, that all things written in the scriptures concerning the prophet concerning should be fulfilled" (Luke xxii, 20).
Also the Apostle Paul (I Thessalonians v, 10). Some of the things written in the Lord in the Law and the Prophets were fulfilled in the destruction of Jerusalem, and in the trouble which came upon the Jews at that time.
Other things written have had a grander fulfillment for now 1,800 years and not one jot or tittle can fail us
all be fulfilled.

Wrath of God Cometh.
However, St. Paul (Ephesians v Colossians viii, 6), mentions a condition of divine wrath; and Jesus and his followers, saying: "Watch ye ye may be accounted worthy to es-cuse all those things coming upon world, and to stand before the son men." This intimates that the A.M.
here mentioned is to be world and in the end of this age, even as upon the Jewish nation.

This special wrath will be manifested in a time of trouble such as, never was seen, there was a nation" (Dail, 12). It will be specially upon the who fail to live up to the light privilege which they enjoy. It will
be upon all the selfish or covetous,
upon the unclean and upon those
unduly prize all earthly things, wear
honor, etc. God's people are warned.

Do we realize that our race is dying mentally, morally and physically? Do we realize that all this is the penalty of sin? If we do, then the wrath of God is revealed, as we see it manifest everywhere. Every piece of crepe every funeral procession, every casket, every cemetery, every undertaker's sign, every physician's sign, all of our own weakness and those of others, all these testify that God's wrath is upon our race. Moreover, the earthquakes and pestilences, the droughts and floods, all tell us that our earth is not in a perfect condition, suitable for perfect man. It testifies to us that there is a reason why our race is treated by our creator as a race of convicts.

No Death Curse in Heaven.
Does anyone think that the wrath of God is thus revealed in heaven—that amongst the holy angels is weakness, imperfection, sin and death? Does anyone suppose that doctors or undertakers or cemeteries or nurses are weak? Why not? The answer is simple. The wrath of God is not upon them, because they are not sinners—they have continued to abide in God's favor,
in obedience to him.

Not only so, but amongst men the wrath of God, which attaches in a general way to the entire race, is more especially manifested toward those who sin against light and knowledge.
The wilful violations of the standards of righteousness bring special degradation and hasten along the wage of sin, death. This was especially the apostle's thought in our text. In all mankind the wrath of God is manifested, but St. Paul declares it was especially manifested toward those who have turned aside from such manifestations of God as they have in nature, and have rejected him and his law of righteousness and gone deliberately into sin and have helped forward their own degradation. St. Paul declared that their foolish hearts became darkened until they worshipped sticks and stones.
The extra degradation which came upon them is still witnessed by the degraded conditions of the heathen nations, as well as by the degraded elements of society in civilization. A reverence for God and for righteousness helps to lift up the race.

The Wrath is Gone.
"Who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come," was John the Baptist's warning.

HOW CELLULOID IS MADE.
Celluloid is one of the common substitutes for ivory, bone, hard rubber, coral, etc., and it is used for hundreds of common, everyday articles.
Familiar as all of us are with these articles, very few know just how this substance is manufactured or to realize that it is a first cousin nitro-glycerine, one of the best known high explosives.

Celluloid is a compound of cellulose or vegetable fibres, reduced by a to gun cotton. Cellulose is found in vegetable life, particularly in young plants. It is a starch-like substance.
Cotton fiber is cellulose to a large per-

A few cotton fibers are cleaned and submerged in acids which quickly reduce it to cellulose in the form of thick, pasty, semitransparent mass.
Camphor is added to further thicken and the required coloring matter thoroughly mixed in, after which celluloid is molded by heat and pressure into various useful and ornamental objects such as combs, boxes, paper cutters, ornaments, etc. Celluloid is molded while hot, and, because of a very inflammable nature, maintenance of an exact and constant temperature is absolutely essential order to eliminate the dangers of igniting it.
In the old days the mixture was heated by high pressure steam, lately electric heaters have been invented which eliminate the leaky steam

the danger of explosion.

FAME FLIRTS WITH GIOTTO

A Drawing a Little Italian Boy Made
on a Fruit Box Accidentally Came Under the Notice of an Architect—Presto, the Sesame Opens.

From the New York Times.

Some months ago there hung con-ting to one of the great city markets a little, grave-faced Italian lad who begged for work in his soft-toned broken English. He was a good deal under foot at first and received more hard knocks and verbal abuse than dishes. But finally one of his own countrymen "took him in" regularly, and the boy slept in the cellar of his employer's store at night and made himself generally useful by day.

No body knew where he came from, or if he belonged to anybody—not even the Italian who employed him. The boy was sharp and close-mouthed, and at first only answered to the name of "Here you," sometimes with an oath attached.

But one day an observant bazaar saw the boy pick up a bit of chalk and with one sweep of his arm draw upon a box a circle with marvelous exactness. "It's wonderful! As complete a circle as Giotto ever made!"
cried the spectators, and Giotto the boy was called from that time.

It was his favorite pastime, this drawing with chalk, or with marking brush. When the rush of business was over for the day and the market was pretty well cleaned up, Giotto would sit in the sun and draw wonderful plans for the public buildings, or for church edifices on the pieces of broken board that fell to him, or on the boxes and crates themselves. He was particularly happy in drafting the elevations of such buildings, and he never neglected the decorations.

The man he worked for sometimes scolded him in their own tongue for wasting his time so, and most of his time.

WHERE HE EXPECTED TO GO

From Judge

"Have you any fresh country butter?"
the young housewife asked.

"None," the grocer's clerk responded,
but we have some near-butter."

"Well, have you any fresh leaf lard?"

"Sorry, ma'am; but I can give you some of our finest near-lard and you can't tell the difference."

"Well, of all the stories! Could I get a glass of honey for the children?"

"Er—I'm afraid not, ma'am; but we have some excellent near-honey."

The housewife signed.

"Dear me," she said reproachfully.

"You should be ashamed to sell—so many adulterated foods! Where do you expect to go when you die, young man?"

"Near heaven, ma'am," calmly responded the clerk, as he hastened a fly away from the pinches.

MAKING SUNSHINE

From Sunshine Bulletin.

"Let's make a little sunshine," said
Uncle Jack on a rainy day.

"Make sunshine!" said Jenny. "Why,
how do you do talk?" said she, smiling through her tears. "You haven't got a sunshine factory, have you?"

"Well, I'm going
